

Sunday's last Britannia Senior Super Series of the season at the Britannia Table Tennis Club in Ipswich saw many of the usual suspects compete for prize money vouchers and ranking points.

In the first stage with groups of four to determine players going into band one and two there was just one upset as Antonio Beckles beat Victor Chan in group three, while Antonio Toril left after stage one and his place as a guest in Band two was taken by Jack Pengelly.

In Band one of the second stage, which was groups of three the top four seeds all topped their groups to go through to the winners section and semi final

There were also some seeding upsets as Stuart Laws defeated Andrew Doshier and a superb win for Joseph Goss over the number five seed Rory Scott

Chris Doran drew Ryan Collins in the first semi final and it turned out to be the most exciting match of the day as Ryan Collins gave a performance to match his victory over Niall Cameron here a number of years ago, Collins power and pace gave the much higher ranked Doran Many problems and he went 2-0 up as a major seeding upset beckoned, however Doran being one of the best players in the UK turned it around to easily take the third set and after just getting home in the fourth set eventually ran out a 3-2 winner

In the other semi final, Neil Charles took the first leg off wife Lauren before she responded by taking the next three to reach the final.

The final apart from one game was pretty close as both players showed their attacking shots to entertain the crowd, the first two sets were shared with Doran then going 2-1 up with the fourth set going to deuce which Doran just edged to win here again where he is unbeaten in this event
