

Sunday saw the second Britannia Senior Super Series of Table Tennis of the season at the Britannia TTC in Ipswich which featured many players around the UK with National rankings.

Stage one saw groups determine players into band one and two for the second and final stages, in group one Sylvain Floury beat the higher ranked Pater Hopking from Norfolk 3-0 as he qualified with Lauren Charles for band one who won all her games. In group five Phil Waity came from 0-2 down to beat the higher ranked Helmuth Osbourne into third place with Andrew Doshier winning the group while in group six Paul Martindill won all his matches with Curtis Beales beating the higher seed Alex Aston into third spot 3-2.

Stage two became more interesting as the higher seeds started to compete in four groups of three in band one and the top four seeds all came through to the semi final, though Andrew Warner was twice taken to four sets on route by Dudi Dubiner and Curtis Beales while likewise Richard Hutchinson was extended to four sets by both Paul Martindill and Stuart Laws in his group.

Both semi finals were won in straight sets as first number one seed Lauren Charles eased through in straight games 1, 3 and 2 over Christopher Cockburn, then Andrew Warner got revenge over his defeat in the Colchester league last week to Richard Hutchinson winning 3-0

The final had the top two seeds and it didn't disappoint as Warner did really well in retrieving Charles attacking shots and he had leads in both games before losing, in the third set Charles good start was too much and she didn't let up to take her second title in this series of this season to lead the pack on the leader board with four events to play
